City Announces Actions to Address Spread of Coronavirus

To protect public health and slow the rate of transmission of the Coronavirus (COVID-19), the City of Pompano Beach is cancelling or postponing public gatherings.

Effective Monday, March 16th, all events, meetings (including City Commission Meetings) and programs in City facilities will be cancelled or postponed until after April 1st.

The City continues to monitor and collaborate with local, state and federal agencies regarding the Coronavirus and will evaluate future actions necessary to protect the health and well-being of our residents and visitors.

Mayor Rex Hardin has already issued a proclamation declaring a public health emergency. This allows the City to take any and all protective actions necessary to protect our employees and the public to the best of our ability.

A 24 hour Florida Department of Health call center is available at 866-779-6121 or email COVID-19@flhealth.gov.

The City's website www.pompanobeachfl.gov offers several coronavirus informational links.
